Herbaceous Peonies

Herbaceous Peonies are the best known type of peony. They are disease resistant perennial plants that produce some of the best cut flowers available. They bloom during the transition from spring into summer. The shining green leaves remain throughout the summer, die back to the ground in winter and reemerge each spring. Herbaceous peonies require little care and live for generations.

Intersectional Peonies, also known as Itoh, are a hybrid created by crossing a tree peony with an herbaceous peony. A mature plant may produce 50 or more dinner-plate sized flowers on strong short stems that do not require staking. Each plant can remain in bloom for 3-4 weeks with new buds continually opening over this period. They grow to 3' tall and wide and continue to improve with age.
